Linda Acevedo reported on the newly implemented on-line process for attorneys to request a Certificate of Good Standing from the Bar, a function of the Office of Chief Disciplinary Counsel. She explained that after centralizing the processing of requests and absorbing those formerly handled by the Membership Department and the Texas Supreme Court, the volume will increase from 6800 to approximately 13,000 per year. The new system automates much of the process, making the volume increase manageable.

REPORT FROM THE CHIEF DISCIPLINARY COUNSEL

- Status on Sunset legislation.
- CDC outreach efforts:
 - CDC reached out to Telemundo TV station in Houston to run a follow up story regarding Jose Vega, a former immigration lawyer who resigned in lieu of discipline, to alert the public that Jose Vega no longer had a Texas law license and was also specifically prohibited from practicing before the Immigration courts. Public Affairs Counsel, Claire Mock, was interviewed for the story.
 - CDC began utilizing the State Bar's Facebook page 3/1/17 to provide information about the attorney grievance process. To date, 38,674 people have seen the ad in their Facebook feed and 49 people had clicked on the link, which takes you to the "how to file a grievance" page on the State Bar's website.
 - CDC reached out to the Bastrop Senior Citizen center after the recent Biloxi bus crash. Public Affairs Counsel, Claire Mock, visited the center and provided information regarding solicitation/barratry.
- Development of additional letters sent to complainants when grievances are dismissed at classification. The additional letters provide a better explanation about why a grievance is dismissed
- Grievance Oversight Committee. The Committee recently issued a survey to members of the statewide grievance committees seeking input about the grievance/discipline system.

Insure that grievance petitioners can speak with the public's confidence in attorneys's go the investigations and educate the public as to how the system/process works. It appears it's rigged for the well-healed attorneys + NOT interested in stopping misconduct of any kind.

Disciplinary System Questionnaire (attached page)

Very simply put. A client has the right to an "attorney client privilege". In my grievance, I was not told that the arresting officer was going to be in the same room sitting at the same desk within earshot of our conversation as I was not expecting this at all which is my reasoning for my grievance. Nor was I asked by the state appointed attorney if I was alright with the officer present, all nonchalant, "have a seat". Never mind the officer present within earshot, just carry on is the impression I got.

Where are my rights? Sure enough as soon as I walked off the attorney then turns around to the officer at the same desk having heard our dialog. Turn the table around, if the attorney had asked the officer questions first with me sitting nearby would this be correct? My point is if the officer was not part of the dialog of questions being asked then this has to violate my confidentiality with an attorney, appointed or not. The attorney can argue with me all day that the officer was not listening in because he was on his electronic device but at less than 7' feet, all could be heard as it was a regular audible conversation.

The officer should have been waiting out in the hallway or in another room or vice e versa. The burden of the proof is on me and I have given you the reasons now I ask for B.O.D.A. to give me proof how this is NOT a violation of an "attorney client privilege" per Texas and even Constitutional code? This is why I am asking for this infraction to be dismissed due to what I feel was a violation of protocol.

A simple, "the conduct you described is not a violation of the disciplinary rules", as an answer by the State Bar of Texas, alright but why and what code is being cited as precedence?

Thank you,

Joel T. González
